Married In Oklahoma.

News has come to the groom's family here of the marriage of Miss Mattie Belle Type-Writing Pugh to Mr. Victor Howard, which was solemnized last Sunday in Pawnee, Oklahoma, in the home of the officiating minister, Rev. Mr. Black, of the Methodist church. It is quite a surprise to Kentucky kinsmen and friends who knew that the two young people were engaged in former years, but had not heard of the renewal of the romance. Mr. Howard was formerly of Ruddles Mills, this county, but for the last two years has made his home at Pawhuska, Oklahoma, where he is in business as a cattle ranchman. He is the youngest brother of the late John H. Howard, who died a short time ago and was brought back to be buried in his old home at Paris just a few months before he was to have been married to Miss Margaret Pugh, sister of the bride. Two weeks ago Miss Ida Redmon, of this city, niece of Mr. Howard, with the Misses Pugh, left on a visit to her uncle's ranch, but did not know of the plans for the marriage. Shortly after their arrival the bride and bridgroom, with their attendants, Miss Margaret Pugh and Mr. K. H. Curtis, Miss Ida Redmon and Mr. G. R. Carter, drove 15 miles to Pawnee, where the wedding was WALL PAPER, Etc. celebrated. The bride is the beautiful daughter of Mr. George Pugh, of Lexing-

LYNCHING IN GEORGIA

Negro Shot to Death and His Body Burned.

After He Had Confessed to Criminally Assaulting a Little White Girl He Was Taken From the Posse Who Had Captured Him.

Cedartown, Ga., Aug. 23.-Jim Glover, a Negro, was shot to death Monday night near the home of the white girl he had assaulted and his body then dragged a distance of about a mile into this city and burned at the stake on the public square.

A mob estimated at 500 composed the shooting and burning party.

The crime for which the Negro was thus punished was that of committing criminal assault upon little Levia Reeves, the 13-year-old daughter of a He is Held in Old Mexico By Brigands farmer.

The true story of the crime is the most revolting that has ever been given to the public from this immediate section of the country. After Portales, Portales, N. M., and a wealthe little girl had protected the Negro from the attack of a large dog owned by her father, he followed her to the pasture, where she was taking a cow, and criminally assaulted her. This occurred Monday morning.

Bloodhounds had been on the Negro's track since, and he was caught some distance away late Monday aftgirl, who unhesitatingly identified him ed and killed. as her assailant.

In the meantime a crowd of 500 persons had gathered. The Negro confessed his guilt. Immediately the her husband. crowd took him away from the posse which had captured him and his body was riddled with bullets.

when the march back to town with the dead body in tow began, it appeared as if 1,000 persons had joined the procession. By the time the crowd reached Cedartown several hundred more had been added. About 2,000 persons witnessed the burning as best they could in the bright moonlight on the most conspicuous place on Main street. The town is in a fever of excitement Monday night, but it is thought no trouble will follow.

BESIEGED FORTRESS.

Final Assault on Port Arthur is Imminent.

Hundreds of Japanese Guns Have Been Pouring Destruction Into the Russian Ranks and Weakened Their Lines.

Liao Yang, Aug. 23.-The following Is supplied by a Russian correspondent: With each additional report from Port Arthur wonder is increased both at the persistency of the Japanese attack and the heroic stubbornness of the defenders of the fortress. The Japanese are literally throwing away thousands of lives in the hope of shaking the courage of the Russian troops.

Mai. Gen. Feck says he is confident the fortress can not be taken, but that if it is taken the whole Japanese army will have to immolate itself on the slopes of the fortifications.

on Green hill, July 26, the Japanese returning each time with apparently inexhaustible reinforcements. On the final assault, however, the Japanese broke badly, throwing away their guns, cartridge belts and even their boots to facilitate their flight, and leaving 7,000 dead or wounded.

Liao Yang, Aug. 24.—According to the latest information from Port Arthur, a furious attack throughout August 19 and August 20 was repulsed with terrific loss. This news was received here with the greatest joy.

There has been serious fighting in this region, but there has been a small skirmish at Anshanshan, where Japanese troops attacked a Russian outpost and were driven off with a loss of six.

Tokio, Aug. 25.-The final assault on Port Arthur is imminent, hundreds of Japanese guns continue to pour a destructive fire into the city and harbor, along the lines of forts and entrenchments preparatory for the infantry assault. It is evident that the Russian lines have been weakened and partly penetrated in the vicinity of Autzshan and Itzshan forts. The entire line of Russian defenses immediate about the harbor are within range of the Japanese guns. A number of Russian forts and batteries continue to be vigorous. The Japanese death roll will be heavily increased before they are captured.

The direction of the Japanese attack creates the impression here that the city and defenses on either side of the harbor entrance will fall first. The final stand will be made at Liao Tis- become more nearly complete. zan. Japanese official channels of information remained close and the navy department announcement of the striking of a mine by the battleship Sevastopol and the firing upon the Russian forts by the cruisers Nisshin and Kasuga Tuesday are the only disclosures made for several days. It is believed that both sides have suffered heavy losses and that the final record will make the siege the bloodiest since Seleaders of the government await the outcome in calm assurance. The people are everywhere decorating streets and houses and erecting arches and flagstaffs in preparation for a national celebration of the expected victory.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 25.-In spite of the anxiety which is felt regarding the fate of Port Arthur, the war office and the admiralty were practically closed Wednesday on account of the christening of the royal infant, and no official dispatches were given out.

So far as can be ascertained no further news of the progress of the fighting before the beleaguered fortresses has been received except that contained in reports from foreign sources. These latter are conflicting, some of them representing that the Japanese assault has become exhausted and others claiming that the Japanese have captured Etzeshan fort, belonging to the western line of 'defenses. If this position has been taken and occupied. it is realized that unless the Japanese are at once dislodged the chain of forts will be breached and the position of Port Arthur rendered critical.

The simple fact that the day to which a large portion of the public looked forward with superstitious dread passed without the fall of the fortress suddenly encourages the population hope that the christening of the czarovitch will mark a turn in the tide. Reports that Gen. Kuropatkin is about to make an important move continue to be circulated, but the character of the move is not hinted at. As the reports from the front agree that the rains have ceased and that the roads are drying, a resumption of military activity is expected. Since his retirement from Simoucheng and the Yangze pass it is estimated that more than 35,000 reinforcements have reached Gen. Kuropatkin.

London, Aug. 25 .- The correspondent of the Times at Shanghai in a dispatch dated August 24 says that orders from Emperor Nicholas have been conveyed to Capt. Reitzenstein, commanding him forthwith to disarm the cruiser Askold and the torpedo boat destroyer Crozovoi, and that "the flags on both vessels were lowered at 7 o'clock to-night."

were issued Tuesday by one of the judges of the court of special sessions, sitting as a magistrate, directing the appearance of six members of the Building Trades Employers' association before Acting District Attorney Rand Wednesday. The names of the men were not made public and Mr. Rand refused to talk of the case.

So far as can be learned this is the first move by the district attorney's office against the employers in the industrial fight in this city.

The People's Security Co., counsel for the unions, Monday submitted evidence against the employers to the district attorney and charges of "conspiracy," "coercion" and "blacklisting" were made.

Tuesday the company submitted additional evidence. The acting district attorney, it is said, will use certain information gleaned from the books in preparing the case of extortion now pending against Weinseimer.

J. C. Hatzel, one of the members of the board of governors of the Building Trades Employers' association, admitted Tuesday night that he was one of the six men on whom subpoenaes had been served.

"Yes, I have been subpoenaed," he said. "The subpoenaes requires me to pensioners, have asked for increase appear in court. It also states I am to produce my books, my contracts and order introduces no new principle, and my trade association agreements. I shall obey the subpoenae."

Mr. Hatzel is head of the Electrical Contractors' association.

Last June when Senator Depew was in Chicago attending the republican national convention, he was sued by S. G. SUBMARINE TORPEDO BOAT.

The Shark Sunk to the Bottom in 100 Feet of Water.

Newport, R. I., Aug. 25.—It became known that while the submarine torpedo boat Shark was being prepared for a submerged run near Brenton's reef lightship Monday afternoon she sank to the bottom in 100 feet of water and remained there for some time before the crew could move her. The cause of the sinking is not known. Lieut. Nelson was in charge of the boat, with Lieut. Shepley and a crew of eight men aboard. The men displayed no excitement over the situation, but tried a number of experiments before the boat could be raised. Finally, after 40 minutes, they succeeded by use of the hand pumps in bringing her to the surface. The boat apparently was not damaged.

criminal informations were filed in the district court Wednesday by Deputy District Attorney Charles C. Butler, charging about 75 persons, including a number of the most prominent citizens of the district with being leaders of the mob that deported a dozen or more men from the district last Saturday. The informations were based upon affidavits prepared in Denver by the men who were driven from the camp. Nine of the informations contain two counts and the tenth three counts. The defendants named in all of the complaints are practically the same. The charges include conspiracy, malicious mischief, larceny, false imprisonment and assault to kill. It will require 250 capiases to complete the service upon the defendants named in the informations and they can not be prepared before late Thursday. Bonds have been

LUXURY OF TRAVEL

Cripple Creek, Col., Aug. 25 .- Ten NATIVES OF THE SOUTH SEA ISLANDS ENJOY IT.

> When Going on a Journey They Take All the Comforts of the Home with Them, But These Are Few.

The up-to-date tourist who has the modern convenience of the Pullman palace car, of the observation car and all the extravagance and luxury that goes to make up one of the limited trains, of which we are so boastful, no doubt thinks that he has at last all the comforts that may attend traveling humanity.

He is mistaken. He may take a trip to the antipodes and find there that he never knew what it meant to take a trip with all the comforts of home.

Of course there is a difference in what one's home comforts consist of,

but would it not be pleasant to travel with the best of your own particular possessions at your hand. This is the way the natives of the South Sea islands travel. It is most laughable and interesting, too, to watch these people in their daily life.

With the ordinary citizen of our country a trip or an extended visit to to be invoked at Omaha in behalf of friends is a most momentous occasion, planned for months and enjoyed in anofficials of the administration in Wash- ticipation. No such weighty consideration is ever indulged in by the simpler races.

Well and must come from the legislature of the good, we shall visit, whom, where? It matters but little, these islands are not large, generations of intermarriage have given relatives galore in every port. Enough, we make ready. Last year that forerunner of civilization, the traveling salesman, was in our midst, Jackson and Brookhaven Broke All now, accordingly, we possess the sewing machine, the kerosine lamp and the bicycle. The white woman has come upon us, tourists are beginning to come this way and the strong arm of fashion has gathered us in, mats are going out of style and the Mother Hubbard is coming on apace. These signs of progress are our greatest pride and where we go the sewing machine and the bicycle goes. I saw one family traveling accompanied by a black iron bed with spiral springs. Into the long canoe goes these articles of the domestic hearth, then piles of mats; of clothes there is probably not enough to bother about packing, strings of beads go handily about one's neck and superfluous drapery hangs over the arm. Between some of the larger islands goes a small steamer, but the natives usually prefer their own canoe, and I have met 100 miles out at sea a long canoe with a sail and perhaps a dozen oarsmen, all bright with gay color, the stroke keeping time to the lilt of the Mothers should always keep in good addily health. They owe it to their hildren. Yet it is no unusul sight to see a mother, with babe in arms, coughing violently and exhibiting all the symp-toms of a consumptive tendency. And why should this dangerous condition exist, dangerous alike to mother and child, when Dr. Boschee's German Syrup would put a stop to it at once? No mother should be without this old and tried remedy in the house—for its timely use will promptly cure any lung, throat or bronchial trouble in herself or her children. The worst cough or cold can be speedily cured by German Syrup; so can hoarseness and congestion of the bronchial tubes. It makes expectura-tion easy, and gives instant relief and refreshing rest to the cough-racked con-sumptive New trial bottles, 25c; large pize 75e. At all druggists .- W.

FOR PRESIDENT. ALTON B. PARKER. FOR VICE-PRESIDENT. HENRY G. DAVIS. FOR CONGRESS-HON. SOUTH TRIMBLE, of Franklin County

FOR APPELLATE JUDGE, JUDGE JAMES E. CANTRILL.

In this issue we announce Dr. Wm. Kenney as candidate for re-election for Coroner of Bourbon. We can safely say that Bourbon county has never had a better or more efficient Coroner than Dr. Kenney. He has in every way made a model officer, and no one is more compeinstruction camp inside the World's Fair tent to fill this most important office. We have not heard of any opposition to him and, no doubt, there will be none.

Error vs. Error.

The game yesterday afternoon between the Paris Blues and Frankfort team was crowded with features, the most prominent were the errors made by both teams. In one inning the Paris boys knocked South, one of Frankfort's champion twirlers, out of the box. After that the interest went up in a balloon for it was nothing but error after error. It looked strange too, for both are good teams. The score stood 14 to 10 in favor of Paris.

Dumb Brutes Are Even Robbed.

Paris at present has all sizes and classes of burglars. On Monday night, Mr. Clarke Barnett, who lives on Brent avenue, had burglars to enter his stable and pull all of the shoes off his old family mare and make away with them.

This was some fellow, no doubt, that wanted to cut down expenses and get four shoes for his horse without any charge, or perhaps it was just d-n meanness of some cuss that is not as good as the mare. Mr. Barnett says he is thankful that the old mare was left.

Bell's Court, Tuesday, at Lexington, being fined $1 and cost for his part in the performance.

It will be remembered that Thomas had Conductor Rose arrested for calling him down, but the warrant was dismissed against Rose, who turned the tables on the negro by having him arrested for using insulting and abusive language. The accused was represented by Judge Geo. Denny.

in the early '60% a little Japanese lad, Nagoya by name. And a droll addition he was to the student body of that institution's less cosmopolitan days. Still the contrast was by no means to the disadvantage of the young Japanese. Though of rather short stature, his litke, graceful body was in perfect proportion, while his wonderful exploits in the gymnasium continually astounded those who mistook his delicate appearance for an index of his physique. His queer olive face, merry little eyes and comically melancholy mouth proved all the more fascinating because of their unlikeness to the more sternly cut features of his classmates: while through its contrast to the harsher New England accent his soft, gentle voice with its quaint intonations gained a piquant charm, whether heard in conversation or recitation. Being, besides, bright, jovial and affectionate, Nagoya at once became a great favorite with the students, while his frankness, integrity and persistent application soon won the favor of the most But in her new happiness she did not stony-hearted professors. His especial friend and confidant was Prof. Bernardini, instructor in the scientific department. The two were constantly together, whether experimenting in the laboratory, reading in the library, or botanizing in long rambles into the country. Indeed, within a short time such a strong attachment had sprung up between them that the professor proposed to receive Nagoya into his home as a member of the family during the remainder of his college days; an offer that Nagoya gratefully accepted, no less because of the delightful home life thus opened to him than because of the opportunity for close association with a people whose manners and customs he was studying. And for this purpose the Japanese lad could not have found a better household. The family was not large; it consisted only of the professor, his gentle American wife, and three children, who, being not far from Nagoya's age, proved especially agreeable companions. Of these the two Regina introduced her son to her old elder were boys-Nagoya's classmates -bright, honest fellows, full of healthy visitor: animation and enthusiasm. The third was a sweet little maid of 12-Regina, the baby of the family—a roguish little tyrant with great black eyes, very long curls, and very short skirts. Altogether Regina was an absolute autocrat, and lived her name by ruling the members of her household with a despotism that amazed the young Japanese, accustomed to the submissive woman of the orient.

For four years Nagoya remained in the happy American home, becoming gratitude from John Ambrose's mother, with each day more and more attached at last relieved from the awful suspense to his foster relatives. He was, as a of her son's long silence, while John Ammatter of course, a devoted admirer of brose himself stood by, his ardent thankthe professor and his wife, and the fulness shining in the dark eyes so like constant companion of the boys, while Regina's. In fact, despite the lack of anthemum seeds lay close to the great years on both sides, the young Japanese had fallen deeply in love with little Regina Bernardini.

Of course the proposal was not to be considered. Very gently the pro-fessor explained to his young comrade the situation as viewed by American eyes, dwelling upon Regina's youth and innocence and her unsuspecting affection for him, which could never attain

The young oriental bore the news quietly, but from that time his spirits drooped; his elastic step grew languid, his joyous laughter silent, until finally his friends feared lest some breakdown should follow this seeming

But they had underestimated the strength of Nagoya's character. During the few remaining days of his stay he pursued his customary duties with dogged determination; only now his slow, mechanical movements were never relieved by the enthusiasm once so characteristic of the lad, nor was his dreamy, gentle voice ever raised in merry banter or laughing repartee.

On the day of his departure Nagoya was walking, as was his wont, in the little garden behind the house. A sudden turn in the path disclosed Regina swaying idly in a hammock. She wore a dress of fleecy whiteness. A dainty cap rested on her shining black curls, her dark eyes gazed dreamily up through the branches to the blue of the summer sky. As Nagoya approached she turned, looking at him half regretfully, half eagerly. "Don't rise," said the lad, gently. "I have come for one last word-a farewell. Soon Nagoya leaves you. Ah, my land of the rising sun will be the land of the setting sun without you, my Regina. One token I leave you, the seed of our royal flower, the chrysanthemum. Tell no one I gave it, for it is of chrysanthemums the queen, and he who gives the seed to a foreigner is under death penal ty. Give to it your dear name, Reginaqueen. As its flowers bud and blossom, remember, so will Nagoya's love for you bloom, growing, growing forever. And now farewell, my Regina, my queen."

Placing the packet in her hand, he turned away. That night he left America, never to return

When the next year the seeds were planted, and a gorgeous pink flower reared its head into the sunlight, Regina gave it her name. Soon the Regina chrysanthemum, the most beautiful ever known to the horticultural world, was the wonder of the season. Visitors came from great distances to see the lovely blossoms. But Regina never forgot the secret significance of the flowers as they budded and blossomed, and, thinking of the Japanese boy's pathetic farewell. would whisper with a sigh: "Poor Nagova."

Seven years later Regina married. soon noted with some surprise that home to her husband's she would have no other name for her new home than who had played with her when she was a little girl; and no story-book fairyland pleased him half so well as his mother's descriptions of Nagoya's home, that queer, delightful, fantastic country on

> It was a day early during the recent war between Japan and China. In his private office the Japanese siogoon, or minister of war, sat closeted with an official who was the bearer of a petition for pardon from a prisoner lately condemned to death. The offender was a United States naval cadet accused of secretly aiding the Chinese forces, and appealing now to the slogoon as the one person whose intercession could save his life. Already, however, the impassivefeatured minister of war had practically dismissed the case, when, as a matter of form, he tore open the envelope sent him by the prisoner. A sudden spasm of pain crossed the slogoon's face, as from the inner wrappings of soft tissue paper there fell a faded photograph of a lovely little girl and a few scattering chrysanthemum seeds. Very reverently, and all unmindful of the astonishment of the official, the great man bent and pressed the little card to his lips. Then, as he read upon the back the words in which friend and playmate, he turned to his

Milwaukee Judge Enjoins Tailoring Company from Hiring Nonuaion Labor in Its Shop.

Court Commissioner E. E. Chapin, of Milwaukee, recently issued an injunction requiring William Marnitz, Charles Marnitz, and Charles Gusta, tailors, to refrain from employing any but union workmen. They are also enjoined from violating the terms of a contract which it is claimed they entered into with the Milwaukee Custom Tailors' union.

Attorney W. R. Rubin, who represented the union and obtained the injunction, expresses the belief that this is the first case in the history of labor unions wherein an employer of labor has been restrained from employing nonunion

It is alleged in the summons and complaint, upon which the restraining orders is based, that since the signing of the agreement or contract the Marnitz company has become a member of a secret organization composed of tailors and employers of men under the name of the Milwaukee Tailors' Protective association, the main object of which is to disrupt the tailors' union and to break the agreements entered into between the employers and the union, to deplate the funds of the union; and "to reduce labor to the pitiable position it occupied before it was elevated to its present dignity by labor unions."

With his face and eyelids swollen to almost twice their normal size, 16-yearold Walter Irwin, of Philadelphia, was taken to the hospital recently, suffering excruciating agony. Irwin's condition was caused by exercising his lungs on a blowing machine in a store near his home. There were several slight lacerations in his lips, which were partially healed. The air forced its way between the tissues and in a few minutes the left side of his face began to swell. One of his companions became alarmed and urged Irwin to go to a hospital.

On the way to the hospital the boy's eyelids began to swell and the pain increased alarmingly. When he reached the institution the eyes were almost closed.

Pressure was applied to the cheeks with tight bandages. Finally the air was forced out through the small openings in his swollen lips, and after two or three hours of this treatment the pains were stopped. The swelling in his physicians do not know of a similar case

Novel Sweeping Apparatus.

A comparatively novel mechanical device used in the new Hotel St. Reevery room connected with vacuum pumps in the basement. In order to operate it the servant, instead of sweeping the floor with a broom and raising assiduously as much dust as she removes, merely attaches a small flexible pipe to the outlet, turns on the valve, applies the nozzle to the dusty surface, and the rubbish is sucked off to the basement. There it is discharged into large sacks, which are taken from the building with other refuse.

Good Fighting Food.

One point appears to have been settled conclusively by the Russo-Japanese war, remarks the Chicago Tribune. It is that a diet of rice does not spoil a nation's appetite or capacity for Mrs. Rosa Adams, niece of the late General Roger Hanson, C. S. A., wants every woman to know of the wonders accomplished by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM: —I cannot tell you with pen and ink what good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me, suffering from the ills peculiar to the sex, extreme lassitude and that all gone feeling. I would rise from my bed in the morning feeling more tired than when I went to bed, but before I had used two bottles of Lydia E. "DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I am very pleased to recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vege-table Compound for womb and ovarian difficulties from which I have been a sufferer for years. It was the only medicine which was at all beneficial, and within a week after I started to use it, there was a great change in my feelings and looks. I used it for a little over three months, and at the end of that time I suffered no pain at the menstrual period, nor was I troubled with those distressing pains which compelled me to go to bed, and I have not had a headache since.
